

PRESS RELEASE

Stonepeak Ceramics Partners with Nemo Tile + Stone to Distribute 12mm U.S.-Made Porcelain Slabs

New York, NY – [January 20th, 2025]– Stonepeak Ceramics, a leading U.S. manufacturer of high-quality porcelain surfaces, is proud to announce its partnership with Nemo Tile + Stone for the distribution of U.S.-made 12mm 60”x126” porcelain slabs designed for countertop applications. This strategic alliance will serve Nemo’s customers, delivering exceptional solutions tailored to the demands of modern architecture and design.

Nemo Tile + Stone, a trusted name in surfacing materials since 1921, brings extensive expertise in distribution and a deep connection to the design and construction industries. With a strong presence in the architecture and design, contractor, and retail channels, Nemo Tile + Stone operates multiple showrooms across the region, making them an ideal partner to expand the reach of Stonepeak’s innovative porcelain slabs.

“We are excited to partner with Nemo Tile + Stone to bring our 12mm porcelain slabs to their Northeast locations,” said Hector Narvaez, Executive Vice President of Stonepeak Ceramics. “Their longstanding commitment to quality and exceptional customer service aligns seamlessly with Stonepeak’s values. Together, we will enhance access to cutting-edge, U.S.-made countertop solutions.”

“We’re thrilled to collaborate with Stonepeak Ceramics on the distribution of their 12mm porcelain slabs,” said Matthew Karlin, CEO and President of Nemo Tile + Stone. “These state-of-the-art slabs offer a sustainable, durable, and aesthetically superior solution for modern design applications.”

This partnership underscores Stonepeak’s dedication to expanding its footprint in the U.S. market while offering innovative, sustainable, and high-quality products. Customers working with Nemo Tile + Stone experienced team through their distribution network can now expect quicker access to the 12mm porcelain slabs.

About Stonepeak Ceramics

Stonepeak, the U.S. operation of Italian parent company Iris Ceramica Group, has been pioneering porcelain solutions since its establishment in 2004. As a leading domestic manufacturer, Stonepeak is known for innovation, superior product quality, and its commitment to sustainability. Headquartered in Chicago, IL, with its state-of-the-art manufacturing facility in Crossville, TN, Stonepeak redefines the porcelain industry, creating products that enhance the interaction between people and their environment.

About Nemo Tile + Stone

Established in 1921 and headquartered in New York City, Nemo Tile + Stone is a leading distributor of premium surfacing materials for commercial and residential construction applications. Their extensive product range includes porcelain, ceramic, glass, metal tiles, and natural stone, catering to diverse architectural and design needs. With a strong presence in the architecture and design, contractor, and retail channels, Nemo Tile + Stone operates multiple showrooms across the United States, including New York, New Jersey, Southampton, and Philadelphia. Nemo Tile + Stone's legacy includes gracing iconic landmarks such as the Lincoln Tunnel and JFK Airport, reflecting their commitment to quality and design excellence.

For more information, visit www.stonepeakceramics.com , For media inquiries, please contact:

Sofia Sabattini

Director of Marketing U.S.

Email: ssabattini@stonepeakceramics.com

Phone: 615-330-0915